Dear Sir/Madam:

Greetings of Peace!

The College of Education of De La Salle University-Dasmariñas, through the Religious Education Department, will spearhead an international conference on values and religious education with the theme: “Values and Religious Education in Our Present Context: Perspectives, Policies, and Practices Towards Universal Solidarity, Dialogue, and Social Justice.” It will be a virtual conference via Zoom Teleconferencing on June 10-11, 2022. This conference has been accredited by the Professional Regulation Commission (PRC) as a Continuing Professional Development (CPD) Program with 6.0 CPD credit units (Accreditation No. PTR-2021-352-1340).

The conference is open to all teachers particularly those teaching values education (Edukasyon sa Pagpapakatao), religious education, and Christian Living subjects. We also invite researchers, catechists, campus ministers, religious and lay leaders and other professionals involved in different values formation programs and activities around the world. Its objectives are as follows:

1. To provide an international platform for sharing and discussion of current issues and perspectives relevant to values and religious education;
2. To provide an opportunity for teachers to learn more about emerging concepts that can enrich the field of religion and values education;
3. To serve as a venue for research presentations and promotion of collaboration and linkages among the participants;
4. To facilitate discussions and sharing of current practices, policies, and trends in teaching values and religious education and inspire participants to learn and apply innovative methods in teaching;
5. To highlight the significant contribution of values and religious education in the promotion of universal solidarity, dialogue, and social justice.

On behalf of the College of Education, it is our pleasure to invite you and your teachers to this conference. We firmly believe that this conference is timely and vital in providing professional development, motivation, and purpose to values and religious educators particularly during these trying times.

You may register at <https://forms.office.com/r/5B19vJWnr4> or <https://www.dlsud.edu.ph/coed/icvre/>.

Below is a copy of the DepEd Advisory and other documents for your perusal. For further information about the conference, you may also access: <https://www.facebook.com/ICVRE>. Should you have any question or concern, you may contact the ICVRE2022 secretariat at icvre@dlsud.edu.ph and/or hlbernardo@dlsud.edu.ph or mobile numbers 09177105266 / 09178045544.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

International Conference on Values and Religious Education 2022

June 10-11, 2022 Via Zoom

Theme: Values and Religious Education in Our Present Context: Perspectives, Policies, and Practices Towards Universal Solidarity, Dialogue, and Social Justice

Rationale:

Values formation is essential to a society's stability and progress. For this reason, schools around the world have been taking serious actions to integrate values formation in their curricula. Consequently, it is imperative that educators, researchers, and other education practitioners discuss and share among themselves the current perspectives, challenges, practices, programs, and research outputs that could help improve values formation programs specially during this time of crisis. It is, therefore, the main objective of this international conference to provide a venue for such discussions with a particular focus on the promotion of universal solidarity, dialogue, and social justice.

This conference also emphasizes the interrelationship between religious education and values education and the need to continuously examine and enhance the significant contribution of religious education both in the spiritual and values formation of the young.

Objectives:

This conference is open to values and religious educators, researchers, catechists, campus ministers, religious and lay leaders and other professionals involved in different values formation programs and activities around the world. It aims to:

6. Provide an international platform for sharing and discussion of current issues and perspectives relevant to values and religious education.
7. Provide an opportunity for teachers to learn about emerging concepts that can enrich the field of religion and values education.
8. Serve as a venue for research presentations and promotion of collaboration and linkages among the participants.
9. Facilitate discussions and sharing of current practices, policies, and trends in teaching values and religious education and inspire participants to learn and apply innovative methods in teaching.
10. Highlight the significant contribution of values and religious education in the promotion of universal solidarity, dialogue, and social justice.

Call for Papers

The ICVRE 2022 organizing committee invites researchers to present their papers during the conference. Suggested topics include, but not limited to, the following:

- Approaches/Strategies in teaching religious and values education
- Catechesis and Religious Education
- Challenges in teaching religious and values education
- Ecumenism and Interfaith dialogue
- Gender and Development Issues
- Home-School-Community Partnership
- Human rights and Peace education
- Issues on Justice and Peace
- Religious Tolerance and Conflict
- School Leadership and Values/Religious Education
- Values Education and School Ethos, Policies, and Practices
- Youth/Campus ministry

ABSTRACT SUBMISSION

To present at the conference, your abstract must first pass a “double-blind” peer review process. Please take note of the following:

Guide for Paper Presenters:

1. Submit an extended abstract of your paper (around 1,500 to 2,000 words) with the following parts:
 - a. Title of paper
 - b. Author's name, name of institution, highest educational attainment, email address/contact information
 - c. Short introduction
 - d. Main body (that includes a concise review of literature methodology, discussion and summary of findings)
 - e. Conclusion
 - f. References
2. Send your extended abstract to the email address: icvre@dlsud.edu.ph
3. Your proposal will normally be reviewed within two weeks through a double-blind peer review process.
4. If your paper is accepted, you will receive a confirmation email from the ICVRE 2022 organizing committee.
5. You must submit a pre-recorded video of your presentation. The video file must be in MP4 format, landscape orientation, and with a maximum duration of 20 minutes. Please check the quality of your video before uploading. It is recommended that your video includes a window box with the speaking presenter, instead of a voice-over presentation only. Send your video to: icvre@dlsud.edu.ph
6. You must be available for a short Q and A during your presentation timeslot.
7. After the conference, we invite you to submit a copy of your full paper to the DLSUD journal Academia Lasalliana Journal of Education and Humanities for it to undergo the review process for publication. Please take note that this is optional and although the organizing committee will recommend your paper, it does not automatically make your paper acceptable for publication.
