

EVERY JUAN COUNTS

by:
Jamaica T. Pangilinan

A vote on for the future of my town. Every vote is important, candidates must be chosen, do not be dazzled by any amount, with the sweetness and flowery words of the candidates, always saying that the reason they are running is for the development of the people. will the town really develop? Or to increase his connection and wealth? At such times candidates can be seen everywhere, you will be greeted with a smile on the lips. reach out your hand along with the words don't forget to circle his name on election day. Not all politicians can be called rags and swindlers, I am sure and I believe, there are still many people who can be said to be honest and true but my only memory is that when he is in office, his principles will change and he will forget his true intentions. so he ran. We do have a saying. Change is not a bad thing, but what if it becomes negative and can affect even many people. My favorite superhero, Superman says his name "great power comes with great responsibilities". I only know that this is my own point of view from my observation of the surroundings, from various types of media even that is in the form of print media that we often read in broadsheets as well as in tabloids. Inevitably, the influence of the Mass media, television that we have with us from waking our eyes, including lunch and with our eyes and mouth while serving and eating together until the evening before we close our eyes and rest and our bodies in bed. It can be said that both print and mass media have great influence. More maybe the third, Social media. It seems to have become part of our need and your life is lacking if you don't hold your phone.

References:

Self Reflection and Observations.

Election 2022 | Philippine News Agency (pna.gov.ph)