Have u ever thought what are the most important things in your life? Have you ever imagined what kind of life you will lead if you don't have the things present in your life?

Most of us are not contented nor satisfied with our present life. Wanting and yearning something doesn't have an ending. Only when you were five feet below the ground.

In my entire life, I have set my goals and turned them into accomplishments. From there, I want more. And more. I earned diploma. I landed jobs. I earned money but wanted bigger opportunities. I got insurances but I still want more savings and investments. I do have cellphone, but I do want to upgrade though am not techy and an app person. I have a house but still aiming for mansion. I am switching electric fan every day and turning on the air conditioner. What a comfortable life!

But now I aged and nearly had a life-threatening experience, my views changed and my mind shaken. I suddenly begin having confusions on what is life all about. I do not know what is the meaning my life and what's all about. Oh God I am totally lost!

I begin thinking of selling all my designer stuff, give it to the poor and be a man not worrying about the future. I suddenly think of being a simple person with only good deeds in mind. What an impossible man! I can't be a person with two distinct priorities.

Now I Am at nowhere. No boundaries and priorities set in mind. No dreams to fulfill. I just have a heart that continuously pounding and a thought that keeps dwelling with one another. God knows what my heart's desire.

What is important to me? What are so important to you? Treasures on the land or room up there. The choice is yours and I will live it up to you. Hanging.
