What it takes to be effective teacher to our students, First a teacher must truly passionate about teaching, show love and care to every students sometimes we called “anak” because we believed that we spend more time with them to be our child, we considered ourselves the second mother of the students. Second, a teacher must think positive, bring a positive energy into the classroom every single day. Even if you are having a bad day learn to show happiness in your face, take the day as cool as breeze, by doing that, you spread your positive attitude towards your students. Third, be an open-minded because there are times you’re going to face criticism and evaluation from your principal, head, co- teacher, parents and even your students, just remember you are not perfect and always remember there’s a room for improvements. Fourth, keep reflecting on your work, recognized your weaknesses, learn from it, and work on it to improve your teaching skills. Fifth, has standards for you and your students let them know which is acceptable and not, show the students the best and teach them the best, and you will see the output that you did for them. Lastly, give your 100% performance at all times, sometimes if we can give 101% to exceed expectation why not do it. To be an effective teacher, do your 100% for your self, students, parents, schools, family, and everyone who believes in you. Never give up and do your best. The most important above all of these is GOD Fearing, because if we believed that God is the source of everything that we have, humbly asking him to guide us in our teaching, we can be as effective as we want to be.
