IV. PROJECT RATIONALE:

The Department of Education recognizes and supports the digital rise in the Philippine education system. This endeavor emphasizes on making education relevant to the urgent needs of the nation and the opportunities which the basic education system has to respond to. This Digital Rise Program is intended to support the implementation of the Fourth Skill (information, media, and technology skills) that is entrenched in the K-12 curriculum.

In these unprecedented times where the nation is under public health emergency brought about by the COVID-19 pandemic, DepEd is employing multiple learning delivery modalities (LDMs) such as homeschooling, distance learning, and blended learning to ensure continued provision of learning opportunities to its learners, while protecting the health and safety of both its personnel and learners. Technology is now the silver lining of the education in the new normal. It is incorporated in the curriculum and is used as a teaching and learning tool in different modalities.

This pandemic has led to the evolution of education. DepEd is now accelerating its ICT Programs. One of these is the Digital Rise Program that focuses in three important areas which are (1) Delivery of ICT subjects designed to build up the competencies of the learners, (2) ICT-assisted Teaching, and (3) ICT-assisted Learning. Since teachers play vital roles for the realization of this program, it is a must to equip them with more knowledge and train them to
