Title of the program	International Seminar Workshop on Transformational Leadership: Developing A Growth Oriented Workplace Culture
Date of Conduct	October 2, 3 and 9, 2021 (1 st batch)	November 27-28 & December 4, 2021(2 nd batch)
Training Modality	Online (via Zoom App and Google Classroom)
Rationale	The Coronavirus Disease is the ultimate gamechanger in all industries today. It has changed the landscape of operations, systems and process in all settings. Government workers are in the frontline to faithfully carry out their duties and responsibilities. With this, civil servants must be capacitated with emerging knowledge, skills and attitude to respond to the pressing needs of their clients and acquire adequate professional development. Developing a growth-oriented workplace culture is necessary to stay relevant amid the fast-changing circumstances at work. Every worker must adapt to the significant shifts in the functioning and behavior of societies. Transformational leadership makes perfect sense today more than ever. This type of leadership allows workers to feel connected to their organization. Transformational leaders motivate by increasing self-efficacy in followers, by facilitating social identification within a group, and by linking organizational values to follower values. This program aims to develop among the participants the characteristics of transformational leader in the context of digital technology, gender equity, sustainable development and professional development.
Program Objectives	At the end of the seminar-workshop, the participants are expected to: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> Practice some mindfulness techniques useful in managing stress at work and to increase productivity and job satisfaction; Increase self-awareness about their strengths and weaknesses in digital capabilities to enhance efficiency by using and integrating technology in the workplace; Adapt best practices that upholds inclusion, gender equality and sustainable development through active engagement in organizational/ systematic change; and Develop leadership skills to address various challenges brought by hybrid workplace setting through fortifying people skills.
Sub-topics	Brief description	Competencies
a. Mindfulness for Enhanced Performance	Mindfulness tools practiced in the educational environment enable teachers to cultivate keen abilities in sensing and responding to the demands of the diverse stakeholders in schools, students and parents to co-teachers, administration and management staff. Mindfulness aids in enhancing the attentional control and emotional regulation of children, leading	Core-behavior competencies Personal Wellbeing DEPED Core Value-Makatao to teachers and students developing stronger relationships that produce better educational outcomes.

b. Developing Digital Capabilities	In order to be more aware of one's current digital capabilities and to explore new skills that can be developed to help in working more effectively. The session aims to introduce a new Digital Capabilities diagnostic tool (from JISC) to help you identify your current capabilities based on six elements. c. Workplace Innovation for Sustainable Development	The importance of workplace innovation to sustainable development of the organizational change process. Workplace innovation has been distinguished from the technical innovation and its significance to intangible service improvements. It has addressed how sustainable development is affected by workplace safety, health, productivity, and wellbeing at the workplace. d. Gender & Inclusivity: Workplace as Safe Space	The session will provide skills to acknowledge discrimination, gender-based violence in the workplace, how to respond to sensitive disclosures, and how to refer people to appropriate services. This will equip people in the workplace with information on how their organization, their managers and co-workers can support colleagues in abusive relationships and what to do next. e. Transformational Leadership: Growing in Service & Excellence	Through the strength of their vision and personality, transformational leaders are able to inspire followers to change expectations, perceptions, and motivations to work towards common goals. This session aims to develop leaders in the workplace who can convey a clear vision of the group's goals, with marked passion for the work, and an ability to make the rest of the group feel recharged and energized.
