1. The Department of Education (DepEd) Regional Office through the Human Resource Development Division (HRDD) is conducting an Online Psychosocial Survey among SDO Employees.

2. The primordial objective of this online survey tool is to capture the issues and concerns pertinent to the "psychosocial well-being" of employees in the midst of COVID-19 pandemic which has transformed the landscape of the organizational workforce and might have adversely affected the behavior and mental health of individual employees when they go back to work after the community quarantine.

3. Results of the Survey will be used to conceptualize responsive interventions that would ensure not only the mental health of employees but also the safety and stability of the physical, psychological, and social work environment.
