

A ROLE MODEL TEACHER

by:

Rosette L. Panlaqui

Teacher I, Orani North Elementary School

As the most admired person in our society, the teacher should serve as role model. In attaining this status, a teacher may ponder on the following:

A teacher that serves as a role model has kind presence. This teacher shows tolerance and compassion to others most especially to his/her dear educational clientele in the school.

A teacher that resembles a role model has a big impact on one's character. The outstanding attitudes and behaviors that this type of teacher manifests greatly affect others in improving their respective characters.

A teacher who has a semblance of a role model has genuine love for the community. This teacher is overflowing in terms of love and care in serving the people in the community providing them quality education and real service.

A teacher that takes the picture of a role model has inspiring personality. This kind of teacher is pleasing and is appealing thus making the people hopeful and inspired. This kind of person can make a person smile because of his/her inviting or pleasing persona.

A teacher that acts as a role model has helpful approach. This is a person who is willing to assist or help other people. He or she has an open heart to share and to impart what he or she has.

A teacher that is a role model has awareness on a lot of things. The cognizance and knowledge in various areas of knowledge is admirable. The broad experiences achieved by the teacher may help others once they are shared.

A teacher that is a role model has progressive mindset. He or she is after for development and progress most especially about the students in the school.

Being a role model teacher is not that easy but to be one is worthy!

References:

<https://www.educationdegree.com/articles/25-ways-teachers-can-be-role-models>

<https://www.weareteachers.com/positive-role-model-middle-school/>