

EDUCATION IN A NEW NORMAL WAY

by:
Jerlie R. Eusebio
Teacher III

Teachers in the new normal are even more effective educators. The classroom is no longer the exclusive venue for the latest average teacher to perform. The scope of service has been significantly expanded. Each student's home acts as a virtual or remote work location. Although online teachers are not physically there, virtual existence successfully and productively subdues presence. Each remote instructor is only a click away. The new normal teacher is the same as the previous one but improved.

Teachers in the new normal are heroes of the pandemic. If nurses and medics save lives, the new normal teacher who also happens to be a pandemic hero holds the future and secures destiny. Without the new normal teachers, there will be no more optimism for the future and no more fulfillment of young goals and aspirations.

Teachers in the new normal are just as critical as medical practitioners. The new normal teacher is not dissimilar to physicians and nurses.

Teachers in the new normal are more than a front liner. Apart from parents, no one cares more about the youth than the new normal teacher. With the magic touch of a new normal teacher, the future perfectly plans, and realizations of youthful ambitions are ensured. Care is given to each pupil, regardless of how far apart they are.

No amount of moral support from a new normal teacher can compare to other people's because a teacher's concern is genuine and sincere. The new normal teacher is both a distant caregiver and a caring source of knowledge.

Teachers in the new normal are without bounds. Regardless of their burdens, new intermediate instructors persevere and keep on. Their goal is never to surrender. Teachers are far more patient and inventive during this pandemic period. These two traits complement one another perfectly. What is unavailable can be substituted. What cannot be delayed can be replaced. With the patience and resourcefulness of a new average teacher, no difficulty is insurmountable. The new normal teacher is equipped with all the answers and solutions to any problem.

Teachers in the new normal are capable and prepared. Today's teachers are empowered and endowed with an abundance of will and enthusiasm. This tenacious will is unrelenting and ferocious. The excitement is immense and magnificent. With a strong determination and generous spirit, no mountain is too high to climb, and no ocean is too broad to traverse. Nobody or nothing, not even the epidemic, can stop the new normal teacher.

Teachers in the new normal are tenacious. No obstacle will ever be able to wear down the new average teacher. For a new ordinary teacher, strength is enormous and unquantifiable.

Fatigue is not a term that any new normal uses. One can be sure of a new normal teacher's inexhaustible perseverance. Teachers in the new normal can overcome all difficulties and overcome all challenges. Indeed, a 1.0 version of the earlier teacher has been updated to a 2.0 version, endowed with the compassion and commitment that distinguish a new normal teacher.

References:

Baird, C. (2021, July 15). Learning strategies for the new normal | InformedED. InformedED; www.opencolleges.edu.au. <https://www.opencolleges.edu.au/informed/learning-strategies/learning-strategies-for-the-new-normal/>