

PASSION FOR WORK

by:

Teofila B. Bauto

Teacher III, Luakan National High School - Annex

In this grueling time, in our present period and generation, the passion for work is even more seen because despite of the recurring adversities, passionate workers are indeed emerging. Setting the bar for work is truly very important for with greater performance that we attain our goals. In school, aside from the school leaders and non-teaching personnel, the teachers are highly anticipated to manifest passion for work.

Passion for work is really manifested in diligence. The teachers may seemingly show ardent and complete attention in doing the tasks that they are obliged to perform in school for the sake of the learners. Another manifestation of passion for work is showing hard work. The teachers may display their utmost best in teaching and in caring for the students or schoolchildren. It is also evident in the ways they perform their other related jobs in school.

Having the commitment in teaching is apparently one of the distinctive indicators of passion in work. Committed teachers are bound to do greater in work. They spend more time in serving the school and the educational clientele. Their commitment shows how passionate they are in their jobs. Coupled with commitment is the dedication of teachers. Dedicated teachers do not count what they do. They simply keep on going on what they are doing despite the adversities and challenges.

The love for work is very vital in showing the passion for the profession like in one's teaching job. A teacher who loves work is performing the utmost best in educating the learners and in doing related functions in the teaching field. Altruism is also another key to the manifestation of the passion for work. Teachers are able to serve and extend the hours of services for the sake of others not thinking of their own benefits.

Efficiency and effectiveness are vital in showing how passionate you are in the performance of tasks in your job. The practice of efficiency in work is admirable and showcase of impact on others would be more meaningful. These are the ways on how would teachers display the passion in work which prove their utmost eagerness to perform the teaching vocation.

References:

The Role of Passion in Learning and Teaching.

https://www.researchgate.net/publication/320661401_The_Role_of_Passion_in_Learning_and_Teaching

Why Passion is important for Teachers.

<https://channel9.msdn.com/Blogs/alfredtwo/Why-Passion-is-Important-for-Teachers>