Nowadays, many students are scared to speak English. They can be very intimidating to talk about it. They're not sure if they're using proper vocabulary or pronunciation. English plays an important role in our lives because it makes communication between different countries possible as the only common language in the world. Here are some ways to improve the way you speak English.

1. Don't hesitate to practice. Be brave and talk to me. "Practice makes perfect." Show them how confident you are when you start speaking. Accept fear, it's normal, and you need to be brave enough to face it. Ignore them when they're laughing at your mistakes. Your only goal is to speak English.
2. Learn-The Study Phrases. You may not be able to say one correct sentence if you only know 1,000 words, but if you know one sentence; you can make hundreds of correct sentences.
3. Make some kind of tongue twister. Reciting a tongue twister as part of a daily routine is a great way to practice and improve pronunciation and fluency. It can also help to improve accents.
4. Focus on fluency, not grammar. You don't need to study grammar, focus on speaking fluently rather than correctly, and you're going to sound better and easier to understand.
5. Please talk to yourself, use a mirror. Whenever you're alone, somewhere else (inside your house, room, etc.) talks to yourself in front of a mirror for 2 or 5 minutes. Choose a topic or make a conversation in front of the mirror. Express your ideas or opinions in a different way.

6. Use the internet and social media. Internet and social media are a great way to easily find some problems and issues. It's the easiest way to answer some of the questions that pop in your mind. It's a great help getting the information, too. It's also a great way to meet different people from all over the world by interacting with them as you practice your English.
