

WORKING ENVIRONMENT AND MORAL STYLE

by:
ORLANDO ILAYA SANTIAGO

Let all our deeds conform to paragon and ideals? Why should it be? Because the purpose and principles will hold firm and the important of values we show will inspire others too. Whenever we experience the shortcoming and we fall short in our doings, stand up and rise again and persevere till the end until we gave regain the right value and moral. Defiance or challenge in our daily life will guide and serve as passport to be a good individual. This can be done when practice the values everyday so that the virtue and excellence we want to attain will be put in place thru the principles supports it.

We always underscore the ethics we want to develop and share, "Charity begins at home" whereas we have to start within ourselves slowly but surely in our doing and give the best to the fullest, so that will anchor on our very being. Avoid being alone, influencing others to do good and set the morale for each and everyone. Integrity is the main ingredients or main factor so that others follow our pursuit in what we do and strive to attain. Such can influence others by way of example. Teamwork is becoming more and more crucial in our daily work including partial or temporary cooperation and some large-scale projects. "Based on the standard economic theory, individuals will always be obsessed with their own personal interest and tempted to free-ride on the contributions and supports of others. Scholars also argue that it is difficult and costly to sustain high quality cooperation" (Chen et al., 2015; Pereira and Lenaerts, 2015), because many individual perform only due to his/her personal interest and not for the common goal.

In our working place or environment, various experiences and challenge will acquire to make us stand on our own and to stand in our own both feet. It also widens spreads the opportunity and broad our networking for self-assertion and be able to use our personal skills and talents whereby we gain self-fulfillment.

Let us not forget to acquire and gain knowledge while performing our job. Knowledge and values should go hand in hand. This way, we will gather enough wisdom and genuine success while doing and attending the things we love to do, and lastly while performing our job do not forget to include WHITH WHOLE HEARTH AND MIND (WHAM).

References:

2017 – Human Behavior : A Basic Guide to Understanding Human Behavior

Human Behavior, People Skills, Human Psychology, Body Language and Personality

Jose Miller

Create Space Independent Publishing Platform