Perseverance since young is the encouragement I've always dreamed of. Passion from within to be one of the pillars of progress urged my desire to be an Educator.

My childhood evolved in the school as a teacher's Secretary for I was introduced to the process. Looking back on the wall wielding an art of ambitious mind as teacher-role itself. Expressing oneself on air at the rooftop. Talking on an empty road. Aspiring teachers who inspire me to be the best in my eyes for academic and professional success. A long mechanism of studying but has always been a start of learning each day. Fulfillment of the purpose to commit and achieve.

In able for a man to accomplish his desire, I realized to mode my life useful and worthy through virtuous doings. To lift the importance of lives and not just the desire.

The reason why I exist depends on how to practice the essentiality of my function that will come in the attainment of a progressive growing and effective successful individual.

At present, my effectiveness relies on the pathway which gives direction and practical guidelines to impart knowledge to my learners. The process won't stop until the ultimate aim is to teach, preach, execute, modify and love the extent of the field I chose, to be a teacher, that's my purpose to contribute and bring persuasion to concur another young spirit.

As I choose freely, Education is much better than others after considering the consequences of the same. Even though I've been through a lot, I woke up, cherish the reminisced and am happy to affirm publicly as the strong bridge of learning.
