

GAINS FROM WELL-PREPARED TEACHERS

by:

Lee Franz B. Torrecampo
Teacher I Maite Elementary School

A classroom teacher should never come to her class without bearing the confidence to teach and the competence to share. Teachers are always expected to be ready, especially when facing their learners in class. Teachers have a greater responsibility to be the figure that manifests credibility and quality.

A quality teacher represents a great deal of knowledge ready to be shared to impact the lives of her learners. The readiness of the teacher may lead him or her to deliver quality instructions to learners. When things are well organized and well-planned for instructions and the teacher has mastery of the lessons, then success in the teaching endeavor could possibly happen.

Being prepared for the class may offer benefits to the educational clientele. A teacher who is ready to facilitate a good discussion may yield better interactions in the teaching-learning process. Poor teaching practices, and in particular a lack of teacher preparation, have been identified as important contributing factors, which ultimately lead to low student achievement. According to Kariuki et.al. (2019), there were differences in pupils' performance in Mathematics depending on teacher preparation of lesson. The learners may have the great advantage of receiving a quality education and a fruitful learning experience if the teacher has well prepared lessons.

A teacher who is always well-prepared projects integrity. This implies that the teacher is reliable, and the learners would give him or her their full trust and attention. Moreover, the picture of a well-prepared teacher entails an image of strength and knowledge that would be sufficient to inspire the schoolchildren and make them engage in learning. Her preparedness connotes his or her passion for teaching which means that he does his tasks not because he has to, he loves to which many people consider the noblest. There is always the drive to perform very well and the enthusiasm to search for excellence.

Furthermore, if a teacher is ready to perform his or her tasks all the time, this means that he or she may be able to deal with and hurdle other challenges related to the job. The teacher who is always attuned to the teaching responsibilities, is caring for the welfare of the learners.

The readiness of teachers may have a positive impact on the school. This means that the school has commendable teachers who are like soldiers who are willing to serve people whenever they are called.

In this new generation, it seems that the responsibilities of teachers are increasing and the tasks are so demanding. Despite these increasing professional challenges, the teacher must remain steadfast and always be ready to show the best at all times because, at the end of the day, teaching is such a rewarding profession.

References:

Indeed Editorial Team: (2022) What Is Preparation in Teaching and Why Is It Important? Retrieved from <https://www.indeed.com/career-advice/career-development/preparation-in-teaching>

Ecole Global: (2021) Importance of preparation and planning for teachers. Retrieved from <https://www.ecoleglobale.com/blog/importance-of-preparation-and-planning-for-teachers/>

Superprof: (2021) Why is it important to be prepared for the new school year? Retrieved from <https://www.superprof.com/blog/be-prepared-for-school/>