“What job do you like to have in your future?” I want to become a teacher someday...

This is a question that we usually answer when we are little, I remember I answered different professions I want to become a singer, a dancer, an actress, a nurse, a soldier.

At a young age, children were given a lot of activities and a motivating environment to raise their interest in building their dreams and to achieve their dream careers in the future. Like for an example, from first grade subject which is Araling Panlipunan “, the objective given for the learners was “Naipagmamalaki ang sariling pangarap o ninanais sa pamamagitan ng mga malikhaing pamamamaraan”. Through that, it is a key to unlocking the children’s dream of what they want to become in the future.

Same with high school students, whereby were given an exam named NCAE or National Career Assessment Examination. This is an aptitude test geared toward providing information through test results for self-assessment, career awareness, and career guidance of junior high school students of the K to 12 Basic Education Program (BEP). The result of this exam can be the basis for the students on what career they will take in the future.

“What job you like to have in the future?” Still, with no doubt, my answer would be I love becoming a teacher, and this will always be my choice. This is the purpose of a
