HOW TO IMPROVE LEARNERS PERFORMANCE IN SCHOOL

by:
Marieta B. Nicdao
Master Teacher I, Pulo Elementary School

Success in school matters a lot for those who want to start early in going to the best school, getting the best jobs, and making the most of themselves, and is what determines your future. Research shows that going to class regularly can boost grades. Doing extra credit, and taking notes can also help.

First, get a planner or calendar. Whether it's a day planner you can carry in your backpack or calendar on your wall at home, or a to-do-list you make at the end of every day, it can help you track when assignments are due, when the day of the test to make an early review and stay organized. It's also reminds you what things to be done and needed.

Organizing whatever you use every day helps your mind feel clutter-free. Clean up your backpack and organize your desk. You won't lose things when you automatically put them where they belong. Having a backpack or desk that is full of loose papers just gets confusing and frustrating, so be organized.

Make a study schedule. You need a study schedule to see when your studying can and should get done. Develop study habits, find a good place to study, and set study goals. Know the learning style to make your learning easy. You can also read textbooks.

Take good notes, write legible for it help you remember the information, and invent fun ways to study. Participate in the class, participating in the class will cement your head the stuff you learned from doing. Ask help. If you are struggling with the subjects, ask your teacher to help you or get a tutor who can help you understand some of the lessons.

Focus on achievement, by paying attention, especially in the classroom during the discussion of the teacher. And if you don't understand, ask your teacher to help you. Don't forget to review and be prepared for examination. If you do all of these, you can get good grades all the time and you can secure a better future.

References:

https://www.livecareer.com

https://www.bestcolleges.com

https://blog.schoolmint.com

14 February 2024