What is the CHATGPT? It is an advanced Chatbot that is designed to help individual students respond to some of the knowledge that might be seen on the internet. It is a very helpful and interesting invention and innovation of the human brain. The capacity and technical specifications of this CHATGPT are amazing most people nowadays are using this to lessen the hard work of knowing facts and mostly using this as their encyclopedia companion, which according to my perspective is a very beneficial tool among the students and other teachers. This includes all the ideas that might be thrown to the Chatbot and in an instant after a few seconds of waiting, it will answer.

However, are there issues or challenges which might be a problem among the students and teachers?

According to the reference, the purpose of the CHATGPT is to assist individual researchers or learners or even someone who would just want to read or try the Chatbot, however, great threats come from the exploitation of this tool, when one becomes dependent on this, and minimize the physical efforts of looking, finding and researching on one's capability. The tool itself is not bad, but how one uses the tool may become beneficial or destructive as to the motives and result expectations of the users.

What do we do now? If students use this as a form of helper on their language tasks?

Initially, proper comprehension among students might increase their appreciation of their own efforts and might be the main weapon to increase their interest in this tool which may also increase their knowledge on how to use this tool properly.
