When MATATAG curriculum was introduced in the field of education, the teachers welcomed it with open arms precisely because they believe that the best things are about to come for the Department of Education (DepEd) keeps on evolving to address the needs of learners of the new era.

MATATAG education is highly anticipated in setting a new direction and in resolving educational challenges. This is focusing on the competence of the prospective graduates to be shaped, on the quality of services and facilities to be offered, on the well-being of the learners, to be protected, and on the support to be bestowed among teachers for advancement.

It also addresses the learning holes and losses that were experienced during the time of pandemic. The pursuit for recovery lives on because the impacts of the recent crisis truly affected the education of learners in terms of quality and quantity. MATATAG curriculum is here to save the educational system from previous setbacks.

In advocating the MATATAG curriculum, the ardent step to produce world class people is being made possible. These people should be well-prepared for the challenges in work, competence in handling responsibilities and dynamism in fulfilling their respective roles in society.

The kind of services to be manifested must speed up to reach the beneficiaries on time. Various modern facilities and innovative actions are now being undertaken to enhance the conditions of the educational clientele, teachers, and school personnel in the attainment of varied educational objectives.

This curriculum further promotes the well-being of learners, raises the need for inclusivity, and establishes a constructive environment for the teaching-learning process. This means that it has a big heart for the welfare, security, and safety of all the school stakeholders.

Aside from learners, the teachers are being given more attention under MATATAG education. Essential support to assist teachers in their professional endeavors is being given. The provision for technical assistance through coaching and mentoring is being made possible and effective.

With the above-mentioned notions of MATATAG curriculum, it is evident that it is setting the right direction for the field of education. It takes care of the welfare of the people and caters their needs to grow and to become productive in the society.

Indeed, MATATAG education is for the best of everyone in the educational field and the best impacts will be evident in the society.
