One of the top priorities of the school system is the safety of everyone. The school must ensure that every single individual in its dominion must be free from any form of hazard, harm or risk.

A school must be free from any form of violence, must remain safe from hazards, must be prepared for any form of events, must be health conscious, and must also be friendly to all.

Schools should be free from internal as well as external violence. The spirit of peace must rule the school atmosphere. It should implement no bullying and should avoid any untoward incidents that may endanger the security and life of people. It should also protect the morale of every individual to avoid depression and humiliation.

Everyone wants to be free from any kind of hazard in school. The school facilities should be well maintained. No structure should remain risky to the lives of people. Moreover, school security must be ensured, serving as one of the best practices in the institution. There should be an established set of policies for the safety of all the people comprising the school.

There are unavoidable natural occurrences that happen in the world like typhoon, flood, earthquake, and landslide. It is very essential to be ready in times of these crises. These catastrophes are endangering lives and it is therefore necessary for schools to prepare for those mentioned events which may affect its people.

The school must also be sensitive to the health care of its clientele and stakeholders. This means that the school should be cautious and be aware of the health concerns of personnel, teachers, students, and others. There should be the presence of concrete measures to protect their health, particularly if they are in school.

In addition, people in school must also feel that they are safe when they see that people around are friendly. The warmth and sincerity of the working force of the school are truly making others secure and protected.

School safety, therefore, may be realized when it is serene, hazard free, disaster ready, health sensitive, and amiable.
