It is undeniable that our education agency focused more on academics for the past several years, highlighting various competencies for the development and growth of the learners. Significantly, it introduced a new mantra that features Ukit Marangal. This entails a new paradigm for educational leaders, teachers, and learners to follow and imbibe.

Just recently, the Department of Education in Region III, in collaboration with the Global Peace Foundation launched Ukit MARANGAL which aims to create a model for transforming education. This means that the launching of a new program for the educational field must be realized for the benefit of its people.

Ukit Marangal will be very instrumental in strengthening character and character education among educational leaders, teachers, and learners. It centers on good moral values and attributes which are indeed endearing and manifesting the best showmanship of humanity to all.

In the school setting, the implementation of Ukit Marangal will begin with the school head. The school leader is expected to set a good example of good character and is anticipated to show good human values which are supposed to be evident in the workplace

Moral and innovative leadership must be manifested by the school principals or heads since they will serve as paragons of transformation within the school community. These school leaders are responsible for aiding teachers to achieve exemplary characters and to raise the banner of integrity in the entire community.

Eventually, the core or essence of Ukit Marangal is dramatically conveyed to teachers and meaningfully transferred to learners who will be the future builders of society. The learners must embrace Ukit Marangal for this will lead them to attain a better life and future soon.

Indeed, the implementation of Ukit Marangal will set a new legacy from the Department of Education (DepEd) that will remain in the hearts and soul of the Filipino people, young and old alike.
