

LIFE- CHANGING TEACHER

by:

Roda S. Soriano

Teacher II, Sta. Rosa Elementary School

One of the most significant contributions to civilization has been education. It has become a basic human need in the contemporary era, aside from food, clothing, and shelter. It is the primary tool that a person needs to achieve his or her aspirations and goals in life. But without the source of its importance the teachers education would not be as important as it is.

Since teachers are primarily responsible for making education practically essential, it is acceptable to state that their jobs are more complicated and difficult than many people would have assumed. It is the responsibility of educators to make sure that pupils develop into their greatest selves. Teachers are now required to be proficient in technology, such as the digital tools of the future classroom.

Making a difference in people's lives is the art of teaching. Teaching is more than just a job; it's a commitment to the future. The people who keep the future alive are the teachers. They are responsible for maintaining the flame that is handed down to the next generation. Teachers encourage students to reach their full potential, follow their passions, and make a difference in the world. Additionally, educators that are proficient in using technology to teach make learning accessible to all.

Every member of the community has a certain function to play. We have several roles, which are similar to wearing hats and selecting them according to the times, because these roles vary depending on the scenario we are in. More specifically, educators serve a vital and essential role in society. The community as a whole is greatly impacted since no other personality can have a bigger impact than a teacher.

In this regard, the nature of the labor that teachers do is never minimized. First and foremost, they are the teachers of the young people, who are thought to hold the key to a brighter future. Second, they are the ones who mold the students' attitudes and behaviors, which significantly contributes to the growth of the country and, eventually, to progress. Lastly, they serve as a source of inspiration for kids who wish to excel in whichever path they choose.

To put it simply, I think that the nature of a teacher's work is never minimized. Maybe everyone should think about it seriously if they didn't enjoy teaching. Because, in the broadest sense of the word, teaching is a fantastic, fascinating career that can open up countless opportunities. It's one of those that will make you realize that you might have the ability to change the world, leading you to declare, "I change lives."

References:

<https://www.masterteacher.com/blogs/blog/common-characteristics-of-life-changing-teachers> <https://www.edutopia.org/article/research-life-changing-teaching/>
<https://www.yidanprize.org/knowledge-hub/news/great-teachers-make-a-difference-thatlasts-a-lifetime>